

Day of Systemic Constellations

Sunday - 9th of June 2019

To support life in family relationships, work and our wider community

A workshop for all who want to investigate what dynamics are linked to their ancestors and/o present family. The method is a powerful healing approach to look at entanglements among family members. Love and respect in a family system can be re-installed and the personal development of the individual is empowered.

In a constellation you have the opportunity to experience the entanglements that influence your everyday life and transform them into loving connections. The insight and intense experience available in constellation work can be a breakthrough in your perception of your ancestors and/or family. The invisible connections are made visible.

As a participant you are a witness of this process - and you are more than a witness. Most of the work is connected to all participants and healing takes place not only for the person involved in a constellation, but also for group members and those who are representing family members.

There is a distinction between registering to do a constellation or being a participant. This can be discussed in an interview by phone. The number of constellations is limited, and there is more room for participants. We strongly recommend to join first as a participant before you do your own constellation and if this work is new for you.
